FIRST MILITARY

Blues and Howitzers to Race Boards in Duel for Track Honors

The first military indoor track meet ever staged in Richmond will be held Armory Friday night when the militiamen meet the Howitzers in a duel for supremacy on the boards. This is the first year in which the cannon-chokers have essayed to ports say that the artillerymen have brought together a bunch of athletes able' to hold their own in any com-able to hold their own in any company.

Of course, the Blues expect to win.
Under the tutelage of Frank Bobson,
the men who will wear the big "B" have improved wonderfully. Several distance men have been developed, while there are a number of quartermilers and lads who will be able to do the sprints in better than average time. At any rate there will be a large gallery to watch the two representatives of the State militia in friendly rivalry.

13,000,000 SEE

New York, January 20.—Figures showing the popularity of intercollegiate football during the season of 1913, have been compiled by Parke Davis, Princeton's member of the rules committee and a noted sports statistician. According to his data 400 colleges and 5,000 schools throughout the country were represented by elevent last autumn. Approximately 43,200 games were played and 150,000 players participating. Placing the average attendance at these games as low as 360, the total attendance would not be far from 13,000,000.

The longest goal from the field was a place kick of fifty-two yards scored by Carl Woodward, of Tulane University, against St. Louis University. The honor for the longest drop kick scoring a goal goes to a schoolboy, James M. Porter, of McKenzle School, who in a game against Hackley School sent the ball spinning over the bar forty-five yards distant. The longest goal from a drop kick by a college player was the forty-three-yard goal by H. A. H. Baker, of Princeton, against Yale.

The record for the greatest number of field goals by a single player in one game goes to Charles E. Brickley, of Harvard, who scored five against Yale.

The longest run was accomplished by H. W. Richards, of Pittsburgh, who, catching Bucknell's kick-off one yard behind his own goal line, ran 101 yards for a touchdown. One of the surprising features of 1913 was the frequency of long runs from kick-off. Not less than nine occurred in the larger games. Hitherto they have been so rare that seldom more than one appeared throughout a season.

The following freak scores were rolled up:

Newberry, 159; B. M. I. 0. Allegheny, 116; Wooster, 0. Gallaudet, 103; Haltimore, 0. Louisville, 100; Washington 0. Washington and Jefferson, 100; Grove City, 0.

An opposite cause of distinction is found in the record of New York Uni-Baltimore, ington 6. Washington and Jefferson, 100; Grove City, 6.

An opposite cause of distinction is found in the record of New York University, which played eight games without scoring a single point.

Amateur Commission Meets January 29

A meeting of the Amateur Baseball Commission will be held Thursday night of next week in the bank building of the National State and City Bank at 8:30 o'clock. Since this is the annual meeting, when officers are to be elected and plans for the coming season made, President Julien H. Hill is particularly anxious that every member be present on time. Suggestions from the presidents of the leagues, in answer to a letter from the president of the commission, will be received and acted upon. In addition, amendments to the rules will be offered and much other matter of importance considered.

MAGNATES ON AN OUTING.
Secretary Bradley and Manager Ray Ryan, of the Colts, took a day off from matters baseball yesterday and journeyed down James River for a brief outing. At least, Ryan was on an outing, while the genial secretary was looking over some work that he is doing along the banks of the noble stream. While these two hardworking individuals were enjoying their brief holiday, the secretary to the secretary was busy sending out contracts to the young men who will arrive here about March 20. The deck was cleared of this rather important detail early in the day. from matters baseball yesterday and journeyed down James River

TURNS DOWN SCHRADER OFFER.

Ryan, while looking with favor upon Gus Schrader, who has been offered in trade by Buck Pressly, manager of the Tars, has balked at the exchange suggested by the distinguished doctor-baseball expert. Pressly wants Bill Laval for Schrader. Of course, Pressly must get rid of Schrader, and no one blames him for wanting to make an advantageous swap. The whole story is that Pressly must play first himself, which leaves no room for another first baseman. Therefore exit Schrader. But Laval happens to be a rather valuable bit of baseball property, and Ryan

STRAIN IS STILL HERE.
Charlie Strain's ambition to shake the dust of Richmond from his baseball boots remains in statu quo; at least his chances of leaving are as good now as they have ever been. The American Association is burning up neither money nor time in a mad effort to secure his services, and Petersburg, also wanting him, hasn't come forth with any counter offer for some days. Therefore it seems that Charles is doomed to worry along as a welcome member of the Colts.

TRIBUTE TO RAY MORGAN. Larry Lajoie paid a glowing tribute to Ray Morgan's ability as a second baseman in commenting on his selection of an all-star American League team. The Frenchman very rightly chooses Eddie Collins as the ideal second sacker, but follows with the opinion that next to the wonderful member of the Athletics, Ray Morgan is far and away the best keystone guarder in either big league.

REGRET GEORGETOWN AFFAIR.

REGRET GEORGETOWN AFFAIR.

While regret is being expressed in all quarters regarding the severance of athletic relations between the University of Virginia and Georgetown, the majority opinion is that Virginia certainly had some justice in the claims made, and that Dr. Lefevre's letter to Father Anglim clearly set forth a state of affairs that needed attention. In justice to Georgetown, it should be added that it appears that the Washington university was sincerely engaged in cleaning up its athletics, and that Father Anglim, at present in charge, was being aided by faculty and students in his test. at present in charge, was being aided by faculty and students in his task.

The great financial loss which the two schools will suffer as a result is partially compensated for by the fact that Georgetown will in future avoid entanglements which may reflect upon the athletic standard of that great school. That a house-cleaning was needed all are willing to admit, and having seen the need, the authorities started actively to bring about the desired result. The pity is that the cleaning up process did not start immediately after Virginia showed its cards and made it known that proof of ineligible players was in the hands of the athletic authorities at Charlottesville. It looks as if the drastic action taken is to be evil only that good may come. Surely that is the hope of the real friends of both insti-

GEORGE COWAN AND FEDS.

Remember seeing in the papers some few days ago that George Cowan was to join the Feds? Well, here's the way the story got breezed about: George suffered the misfortune to lose his father-in-law, and while napping after an all-night vigil, was awakened by an energetic young man, who wanted to ask him whether he was not going to "jump" to the Feds. 'Sure," said George, anxious to get in a few more winks before being up "Sure," said George, anxious to get in a few more winks before being up for the day. That was enough on which to base the story, and it was spread for all it was worth. "After that story," continued George, "I just had to go through with it." As a matter of fact, Cowan is peacefully working on the Evening Star, of Newark, N. J., as a linotype operator, and is well satisfied with his job, the only attention he gives to baseball being an occasional semi-pro game around the lots of the New Jersey city.

WILL ORGANIZE CLOSED LEAGUE

It is believed that at the meeting of the Amateur Baseball Commission to be held to-morrow night, provision will be made for closed leagues, and also that the reserve clause whereby teams hold rights to their players from season to season will be eliminated. If these two changes in the rules governing amateur baseball be made, the new league will come within the ranks of amateur organized baseball.

FORD SIGNS WITH FEDERAL LEAGUE

Chicago, Ill., January 20.—While representatives of organized baseball again predicted lits early demise, the Federal League to-day continued collecting major league ball players, signing three pitchers, as well as completing a quartet or umpires. The pitchers signed are Russell Ford, of New York Americans, who will be with the Chicago Federals; Howard Cammitz, of the Philadelphia Nationals, who will go either to Indianapolis or Pittsburgh, and Edgar Willett, the Detroit pitcher, who was signed by Mordecal Brown, manager of the St. Louis team of the new league.

With the signing of Steve Cusak, the former National Leaguer, who was with the Three I League last year; Monte Cross, the former star infielder, and C. C. Busk, once a big league umpire, President Gilmore's staff includes four yeteran arbitrators, William Brennan laving signed yesterday.

STUART CERTAIN RELIEF'S IN SIGHT

But Governor-Elect Is Confident That Weaver Bank Bill Will Be Defeated.

GOES AWAY FOR HARD WORK NO FEAR OF COURT-MARTIAL

Chairman Weaver Still Believes Commander of Mexicans Defends 10-Cent Tax Measure Will Be Adopted.

Feeling assured that relief is in sight for bank depositors along lines that will cure the situation and yet not exempt this class of property from taxation, Governor-Elect Henry C. Stuart left the city last night. He took a hand in the bank tax situation on Friday, and as a result of developments since that time feels sure that enough members of the General Assembly will oppose the Weaver bill to prevent the reduction of tax on deposits to a purely nominal rate, as was proposed, and will vote for a measure yielding revenue, and at the same time affording relief.

The Senate Finance Committee yesterday reported favorably a bill similar to the Weaver bill in its general terms segregating the tax on money in bank to the State, and providing a State rate of 10 cents on $100. The substitute bill supported by Mr. Stuart segregates the tax to the State, provides a tax of 25 cents on $100, and provides for the collection of the tax at its source by the banks, charging to depositors according to the amount on deposit. Friday, and as a result of developments to depositors according to the amount on deposit.

Cannot Get Emergency Vote.

Chairman Weaver. of the House Flnance Committee, last night would not admit defeat, but expressed confidence that his bill would be passed by a majority vote.

He admitted that it could not now hope to secure the four-lifths necessary to make it an emergency matter. The bill is on the House calendar on its second reading, and will come up for discussion following disposition of the enabling act.

Mr. Stuart did not let it be known where he was going, as he desires a few days of quiet to prepare his inaugural address. He delayed leaving Richmond three days on account of the bank deposit tax situation.

Before leaving the Governor-elect said that the peculiar situation alone had caused his entrance into the matter in an active capacity—the fact that the incoming Governor has as yet had no opportunity to communicate officially with the General Assembly. He said he had intended no reflection whatever on Governor Mann, for whom he has the highest esteem.

Lower Than Bankers First Asked.

The Jordan substitute, which has Mr.

said he had intended no reflection whatever on Governor Mann, for whom he has the highest esteem.

Lower Than Bankers First Asked.

The Jordan substitute, which has Mr. Stuart's approval, is rorded by the Governor-elect as offering an extremely low rate of taxation on money—a rate compensated for by the fact that the tax will be collected with ease, the machinery being provided by the bill itself. He is unable to understand why the measure should be regarded as unreascnable, seeing that it carries a rate of only 25 cents on the $100, whereas the bankers, in very recently advocating a tax of 35 cents, or 10 cents higher than now agreed to by Mr. Stuart, asserted in their literature that the 35-cent rate would permit the banks to keep the money on deposit, would draw large sums from other States to Virginia for deposit in banks here, and would "write into the law a principle of justice," and, in short, that the 35-cent rate would cure every grievance that the banks and the depositors were ever heard to complain about.

Object to Tax at Source.

Chairman Weaver said last night that he felt certain that there would be great objection to levying the tax at its source. Richmond banks, he said, are made the place of deposit by many country banks, which use the larger banks here as a reserve place of deposit. This money, he was certain, would immediately go out of the State were such a plan to be put into effect.

If it becomes apparent that neither bill can obtain the four-fifths majority necessary to make it an emergency act, taking effect from its passage, several members committed to neither bill take the ground that the whole matter should be deferred for consideration in

ACCUSES OROZCO

General Mercado Makes Charges Against Several Federal Generals.

His Abandonment of Ojinaga.

El Paso, Texas, January 20.—General Salvador Mercado, commander of the Mexican Federal soldiers who fled into the Unted States from Olinaga, Mex-ico, and who were interned to-day in Fort Bliss on the footing of prisoners of war, to-night defended his abandonment of Ojinaga, and charged General Pascual Orozco with cowardice and in-subordination.

General Mercado detailed his reasons for taking asylum in this country. He said Orozco repeatedly had robbed the Federal provision train, had become arrogant, had refused to attack the rebels, had abandoned his own troops, and had run away under fire to give the impression that he heroically would remain on the Mexican side to fight more battles, whereas Orozco was afraid to cross into the United States because of an indictment pending because of an indictment pending against him here. He said Orozco had demanded money and had placed drunken officers at the head of his forces.

forces. General Mercado charged that General Ynez Salazar and General An-tonio Rogas, volunteer commanders, were cowardly under fire, and that they abandoned their posts as soon as the rebels appeared.

"The appearance of Orozco at Chi-huahua before we left for Ojinaga was fatal to the Federal cause," General Mercado said. He had been told by some one that he was to be governor and military chief, hence his insolence and reticence. Rojas also repeatedly abandoned his positions in a cowardly manner. There were the desired by the solution of the cowardly manner. manner. There were quarrels of all "In Chihuahua, Generals Mancilla, Salazar, Orpinal and Rojas told me their forces were panic-stricken and would not fight. That led me to evacuate Chihuahua, for I had no support."

M. This was regarded in official circles as an intimation that there is no intention on the part of the French government of insisting on a collection of the interest at the Mexican custom houses.
